Management's Discussion of Fund Performance

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

Income Fund (Class R2/JSNSX) returned 3.65% for the year ended May 31, 2024. The most significant factors affecting Fund performance during the period included rising bond yields, stronger-than-expected economic growth, and lowered expectations for interest rate cuts by the U.S. Federal Reserve. Sector performance in the bond market was also a key factor, with high-yield and investment-grade corporate bonds posting the best returns, while U.S. Treasury securities lagged.

TOP PERFORMANCE CONTRIBUTORS

Corporate bonds | High-yield and investment-grade corporate bonds represented nearly a third of the portfolio on average during the period and were the top contributors to the fund's return.

Emerging markets debt | A small position in credit-related emerging markets bonds, denominated in U.S. dollars, was beneficial as emerging markets bonds were strong performers.

Global bond exposure | Bond holdings in Europe, Australia, and New Zealand also added value.

TOP PERFORMANCE DETRACTORS

Duration (interest rate sensitivity) | Rising bond yields around the globe put downward pressure on bond prices in general, which detracted from fund performance.

Foreign currency exposure | A stronger U.S. dollar during the period weighed on the fund's exposure to foreign currencies, particularly the Japanese yen and Indonesian rupiah.
