Management's Discussion of Fund Performance

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

Multimanager 2015 Lifetime Portfolio (Class A/JLBAX) returned 12.15% (excluding sales charges) for the year ended August 31, 2024. Stocks rallied as falling inflation raised hopes that the U.S. Federal Reserve would start cutting interest rates. Positive global growth, steady corporate earnings, and excitement surrounding the adoption of AI added to the upbeat tone. In this environment, U.S. equities, the growth style, and the information technology sector outpaced the market as a whole. Bonds also produced gains, with income accounting for the majority of the category's total return. Credit-oriented categories generally outperformed those with higher interest-rate sensitivity.

TOP PERFORMANCE CONTRIBUTORS

The equity allocation made the largest contribution | Holdings in U.S. large cap, international large cap, and defensive stock funds were the leading contributors in equities.

Fixed-income allocation also contributed | Allocations to short- and intermediate-term bond funds, both of which benefited from holdings in investment-grade corporates, were top contributors. Positions in high-yield bond and dollar-denominated emerging-market debt funds also helped results.

TOP PERFORMANCE DETRACTORS

U.S. Treasury STRIPS (Separate Trading of Registered Interest and Principal of Securities) | Certain holdings in this area were adversely affected by their above-average interest-rate sensitivity.

The absolute return portfolio | This portion of the fund, which is intended to provide an alternative source of return with lower sensitivity to the performance of the broader financial markets, posted a small loss.
